

I cannot fathom why we are even contemplating allowing corporations to take over the information systems in single markets. This interferes with our 1st Amendment rights and will be very destructive to our representative democracy. It's not like they can't make a profit some other way!